

Glendale Madison, WI

The Glendale neighborhood is one of the select few neighborhoods in Madison where the residents can easily walk to all three public schools. Glendale real estate is also conveniently located near some of the east side's most well known parks and natural resources. The Glendale neighborhood offers mid-century houses built during the 1940s, 1950s, and 1960s. Here you'll find an affordable selection of 3 and 4 bedroom homes that offer over 1,500 square feet of living space. If you're looking for a ranch style home, you'll find many options to choose from in the area. Glendale properties are also conveniently located near many east side schools, parks, and natural resources.

3 Parks

1 Golf Course

10+ Restaurants
Nearby

Schools

Walking to school can be your reality in this near east side community. The local elementary school, middle school, and high school are all located within the boundaries of the neighborhood. Glendale Elementary is located at 1201 Tompkins Drive. Sennett Middle School and LaFollette High School are located at 502 and 702 Pflaum Road, respectively.

Parks & Recreation

Glendale properties are conveniently located near some of the east side's most popular outdoor destinations. This part of Madison is less than a mile away from Lake Monona. It also borders Monona's Woodland Park, the Aldo Leopold Nature Center, and the Monona Municipal Golf Course. Madison's Edna Taylor Conservation Park is located within the boundaries of the neighborhood. This park features 60 acres of natural space and 1.3 miles of trails and boardwalk which meander through the park.

Mad City Dream Homes
RE/MAX Preferred
1619 Monroe St, Suite 1
Madison, WI 53711