

Stoughton, WI

Stoughton homes offer buyers a unique collection of heritage and history located 15 miles south of Madison. Situated along the Yahara River and near Lake Kegonsa, Stoughton was established in 1847 and named after its founder, Luke Stoughton. Since then the community has grown to over 12,000 strong. Stoughton offers dozens of historic buildings and landmark homes, with classic architecture in Victorian, Arts and Crafts bungalow, Queen Ann Style, Italianate, and American Foursquare themes. If you prefer architectural details such as French and pocket doors, 10-foot ceilings, oversized porches, inlaid woodwork, beveled glass, china hutches, an old style butler's pantry, or thick oak hardwood trim and flooring, the houses in the city's center are a must-see. Stoughton also features a wide selection of more modern real estate, with many newer construction homes built in the 1990s and early 2000s.

20+ Parks

5 Schools

20+ Restaurants

Area Parks

Parks and outdoor recreational opportunities are plentiful in the Stoughton area. The city features 17 community parks including LaFollette County Park, the Yahara River, and Lake Kegonsa State Park. Local golf courses include the Stoughton Country Club, Coachman's Golf Resort, and the Creekview par three course.

Events and Activities

The community of Stoughton has its own unique identity, steeped in Norwegian culture and history. The city is host to its popular "Syttende Mai" celebration, an annual ritual marking Norway's independence. The three day event is a celebration of Norwegian culture that includes arts and crafts, food, music, dancing, and an annual run which attracts hundreds of participants from around Wisconsin. The Stoughton Opera House and the Stoughton Historical Society connect residents with local history. The city hosts the annual Coffee Break Festival and Victorian Holiday Weekend, two other events which make life in Stoughton unique.

Schools

Stoughton offers five public schools in total. Kegonsa, Fox Prairie, and Sandhill elementary serve the grade school levels, while River Bluff Middle School and Stoughton High School provide education to the older levels.

Mad City Dream Homes
RE/MAX Preferred
1619 Monroe St, Suite 1
Madison, WI 53711