Designed by Veridian builders, the neighborhood offers a Verona address and access to Madison schools. The location is minutes from shopping, restaurants, and schools, but also has quick access to the countryside. Open farmland and an apple orchard sit off to the west. The community offers a wide range of building options, including 3, 4, and 5 bedroom homes, duplexes, and many outdoor perks.

1000 Oaks is in its beginning stages, but the neighborhood plans indicate a significant amount of shared outdoor space, perfect for walking, playing at the park, and even ice skating each winter. Several ponds are situated throughout the neighborhood, adding to its beauty and creating additional shared green space. The neighborhood includes a wide range of lots, designed for mainly single family homes. The home designs are typically 2 story, craftsman style, and offer 3-4 bedrooms, at least 2.5 baths, and open concept layouts. A series of twin home sites are planned for the northern end of the neighborhood. Most properties offer between 1,500 and 2,500 square feet of finished living space, depending on the home design selected.
