

Lexington Condominiums

Madison, WI

Lexington Condominiums are set back, off of South Gammon Road along Park Ridge Drive on Madison's southwest side. These 2 bedroom condominiums offer one-level living, on either the main or upper floor. The community is convenient to shopping, restaurants, and overlooks a pond, wooded area, and restored prairie with walking trails.

Lexington Condominiums were built in the mid-1980s and designed with open concept living in mind. The kitchen, dining, and living areas are all connected, and enjoy the warmth of a wood burning fireplace. Two bedrooms share a full bath, with double sinks. Some units include a second full bath. Closets are spacious, and additional storage is frequently built in a closet off the kitchen. Lexington condos have a shared, secured entry, and 8 units are built into each building. Each condo has a private one-car garage. The garages often are extra-large, and occasionally designed to fit two cars, tandem style.

There are 64 condominiums that serve as part of the Lexington Condo Association. The association is managed by a professional, off-site company. Monthly fees include hot water/sewer, snow and trash removal, common area maintenance and insurance.
